

The Flatten the Curve and Stave Off the Covid Scavenger Hunt

The rules are easy! Send the entire group a picture of items on the list. Comments associated with the picture are also welcome like where you were, funny comments, etc. The game will take place over a 24-hour period or when someone completes the entire list, whichever comes first.

I will keep score on individual sheets of paper for each of you and update you on the scoring throughout the competition. The winner gets A Major Award (to be distributed at a later date), but more importantly the joy of beating everyone else and the relief of not having to figure out how to occupy your time for a bit.

If any of these hunt items are literally impossible, use your ingenuity. Some points will still most likely be awarded for ingenious substitutions.
